Course Cost: £595

This includes ALL tuning forks required to achieve certification, a comprehensive training manual (PDF) with free lifetime updates, student assessment day, certificate and ongoing IHHT team support.

Course requirements

Prior knowledge of sound healing is NOT required. However, in order to maintain our trademark high standards of training, and our CMA Centre of Excellence and Approved Training School status, Infinity students are required to undertake personal reflective practice, complete client case studies and attend an assessment day. Students must also provide evidence of Anatomy and Physiology training and an Emergency First Aid at Work certificate (We are able to signpost you to appropriate training providers if required and in some cases are able to offer a discounted course fee through our partner organisations).

Course Tutors

Suzi Garrod

Penny King

Ros Simons

Learn more

To find out more about this course, our 2-day Applied Tuning Fork Techniques course for qualified Sound Practitioners, all upcoming intake dates and further details about our tutors, courses or training centres, see our website at www.ihht.org or email team@ihht.org.

IPHM Holistic Accreditation Board APPROVED Training Provider Approved by the International Practitioners of Holistic Medicine

REGISTERED COLLEGE CMA THE COMPLEMENTARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

www.ihht.org

Follow us on: